Julian Van Horn Came in Contact With a Brick Near Kernan's.

Julian Van Horn, sixteen years old, living at No. 2812 Dumbarton avenue, was struck with a brick whileleaving Kernan's Theater last night and was so badly injured that he will lose the sight of his right eye. Young Van Horn and a party of friends visited the theater and while on their way out to the street became involved in a dispute with a crowd of colored roughs. When they reached the sidewalk Van Horn and his friends started to board a car when some one in the crowd about the doorway of the theater started a fight. Van Horn went back to see the fracas and had just pushed into the edge of the crowd when some one threw the brick.

The corner of the heavy missile struck Van Horn squarely in the eye, forcing the eyeball out of the socket so that it hung down on his cheek. He was picked up by his friends in an unconscious condition and taken to Emergency Hospital, where the wound was dressed. The surgeons stated that the sight was completely destroyed. Later Van Horn was removed to his home.

CALLS TRELAND CYCLONIC

Baltimore Free Silver Priest Made an Address.

AGAINST THE ARCHBISHOP

Father Hannan Says the St. Paul Pre late Is Wrong-He Offers to Find a Dozen Flaws in the Recent Address-Strong Advocate of Bimetallism-Created a Sensation.

Pattimore, Oct. 13.-Rev. Eugene A. Hanau of St. Martin's Catholic Church, Fution avenue and Faveite street, created some thing of a sensation has night by appear-ing at the half of the Unice Catione Literary Association of Pius Memorial Church, Schroeder street and Edmondson avenue, and delivering a lecture upholding the doctrine of the free colnage of silver, and in cidentally rapping Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, Minn., for calling upon all citizens to support the single standard and McKin-

Father Hannanis the first Catholic clergyman to publicly appear in a political dis-cussion, and he says that in times like these every man ought to get down from his gedestal and take autmerest in what is going on about him.

At the outset he said: "It is, indeed battle of the standards; not a bloody war of the roses, red and white, but a Lioodless battle of the standards, silver and gold.

The free people of a free country are divid-ed into hostile camps."

Be did not leave his position doubt-ful, for he declared: "As for me, I am proud to range myself with the masses. Not that I would array the masses against the classes, but, as one of a class, I am quick to declare that it is the duty of every man to be a man-aye, a man of the people, and for the people."

FALL IN THE PRICE. Speaking of money, he said: "Appre-ciation in money means a fall in the price of commodities. Depreciation of money means a rise in the price of commodities. Dear money means lower prices; chear money, and cheap money is undoubtedly the best money, means higher prices. Dear money is the worst money for the generality of people, because it is barder

'Again: "When the volume of currency is lessened or made smaller there is con-traction; when the volume of money is increased or made larger there is inflation. Between inflation or contraction you must make a choice. Which do you prefer, more money or less money; more money for you, more money for your friends and relatives, more money for your community and for your country, or less

"You will notice," he said, "that I dwell on the quantity of money, rather than the quality, whereas at this time it seems be a question of quality - a sound dellar I cannot get a gold dollar, not one. Last year I went to the United States customhouse and I could not get one gold dollar. Gold dollars, the unit of value, must be bought in a curiosity shop. They are worth nore than one hundred cents.

"If any man, be he the President of the United States or the honorable Secretary of the Treasury, says that any money o the United States is unsound and dishonest then he says that our government is dealing dishonestly with the people of the United States, and I claim that if the spver dollar be unsound and distonest now it was not unsound or dishonest in the time of Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson and Andrew Jackson, but it was dishonest and unsound when John Sherman demonetized silver in 1873."

NOT AN ALARMIST.

As to the argument that only the silver nine owner would receive the profit, he said "Add one hundred millions to the oney circulation, and all of us become richer by so much per capita. Substract one hundred milhous from the money in circulation, will you be richer or poorer; Evidently poorer,

"I am not an alarmist," said he. "I can solemnly assert before God and man that I have studied this question conscient tiously. I have burned midnight gas; I have pondered over tooks with the thermometer at aimost 100 in my room at mid-night, and as a convert to the cause; as one who in the beginning thought gold was adherence to bimetallism. You may find a flaw in my argument. Find it if you can. And when you have found it I will reward you for your industry by finding a baker's dozen in the article published this morning by the cyclonic archbishop of St. Paul He is honest, so am I; but he is wrong, and we are right." After referring to Archbishop Ireland whom he called one of his dearest friends, he said that his assertion that Archbishop Walsh's statements do not apply to the condition in this country is "rank," and to say that even the Sherman law was not able to keep the price of silver up was "one of the grossest misstatements he had ever Concloding, he said: "We need all our gold and all our silver for legal-tender money, and even then there will not be enough-There is plenty of room for paper, too. Wisdom demands that we give to silver at the points the same rights that are given to gold-rights that will make it equal it money functions to gold, at the ratio fixed by free coinage of silver, as well as free coinage of gold."

BOSPHORUS FULL OF CORPSES French Divers Refuse to Work There

on That Account. Berlin, October 13.-The Lokal Anzeige has a dispatch from Constantinople saying that the anti-sultan movement among the Softas (theological students) is growing. They have circulated another revolutionary proclamation.

The dispatch adds that Nehmet Pasha an Imperial aide, was shot at the Yildiz Palace on suspicion that he was implicat ed in the Young Turkey agitation.

Persistent stories are in circulation to the effect that carts loaded with corpses emerge at night from the central prison and hurry off in the direction of the Bosphorus. Thes victims are supposed to be Young Turks French divers are refusing to Work in the Bosphorus owing to the horrible collection of corpses that they meet while pursuing their labors under water.

In an interview Tewfik Pasha, the for eign minister, gave in detail the reforms that the sultan proposes to apply to the whole-empire. He said that the great expense en-tailed by these reforms would be met by granting new monopolies, if the powers will give their consent. With these and peace, Turkey, he added, would surmount ber financial troubles. In conclusion Tewfik Pasha declared that the government was resolved to continue the construction of the Asiatic railway to Bagdad, thus opening up the resources of Anatolia and providing an overland route to India.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' SERVANT

Faithful Colored Man Killed by a Train Near Baltimore.

His Daughter Is a Teacher in the Public Schools Here-A Striking Character.

Western Maryland Railroad Sunday night was identified yesterday as Frederick Me-Ginnis, the body servant of the late Jeffer son Davis while Mr. Davis was confined at Fort Mouroe. McGinnis leaves a naugh ter, Emma, who was graduated last year from the Colored High School here, and is new a teacher in one of the public schools.

He was a rative of Charleston, S. C. where he was born sixty years ago. Throughout the civil war he was a persenal servant of Gen. Beauregard. After the war he was employed by Mr. George W. Schley, a wealthy Georgian, who placed him at the service of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, who desired a servant to accompany her during a trip of Canada.
When she obtained a permit from Secretary

Stanton to visit Mr. Davis at Fort Mouroe, McGinnis accompanied her. Mrs. Davis was advised that unless her husband had special cook, proper food and careful at tention he would not live long.

The faithful colored man was selected for these duties. He served Mr. Davis six months while the distinguished prisoner was confined in the casements of the fortress, and when the bad health of the Confederate president caused his removal to another part of the fortress, McGinnis remained with him.

He continued to serve the prisoner for eighteen months longer, or until the final release of Mr. Davis, supervising the cooking and arrangement of his food, carrying his messages, receiving his letters and friends and being in constant attendance upon him. When the prisoner was released.
McGinnis accompanied him to Canada and remained six months with the children Vinnie and Willie.

It is said that McGinnis was instrumental having the chains removed from Mr. Davis. The story goes that an officer at the fort was very much worried about the condition of his horse. McGinnis said he could cure the animal, and when Mr. Davis assured the officer that the servant was trustworthy, McGinnis put the horse under treatment and was successful. The officer became very fond of McGinnis, and at the solicitation of the servant had the chains removed from Mr. Davis. When Mr. Davis, on account of depleted forune, dispensed with his services, Mc-Ginnis went to Baltimore. After two years' service with the late John W. Garrett he entered the employ of the Baltimere News Company, Since January, 1880, he had been on the pay rolls of the company and was trusted and respected.

In August, 1895, McGinnis, through the kindness of a gentleman who took much interest in him, was given an opportunity to revisit Fort Monroe. It was the first time he had been in the fortress since he had left it in the sixties. He identified the casements where he had spent so much time with his imprisoned master, but said one of the buildings in which Mr. Davishad been confined was removed and that no familiar faces were there.

McGinnis was pleasantly remembered by Mrs. Daivs, who sent him an autograph copy of her sketches of her husband's life when the work was first published. In the book is a grateful account of the minis trations of the colored man to the dis tinguished prisoner. This book was bighly treasured by Mc Ginnis, together with autograph letters and orders from Mr. Davis and Gen. Beauregard. These papers he at one time pro-posed to give into the care of the Confederate Army and Navy Society of Maryland, but never carried out his intentions in the matter. Another relic he treasured was the last cane used by Jefferson Davis, which was sent him by Mrs. Davis.

At the time of the reinterment of Mr. personal invitation to attend-from the executive committee in charge of the ceremonies, and was enabled to go through the kindness of the same gentleman who had sent him to Fort Monroe.

Unveiling the Monument. Members of the Confederate Veterans' As ociation of this city will go to Silver Spring. Md., tomorrow, to participate in the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the conument to the unknown boys in gray buried in Grace churchyard at that p Ridgley Brown Camp, United Confed Veterans, of Montgomery county, Md., will have immediate charge of the unveiling ex-ercises.
